

Mrs. Roosevelt Returns to New York After Busy Day in Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 2.—(AP) Crowding two receptions, a convention, a luncheon and a "nickel-a-plate" dinner into less than 24 hours, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt left the state capital today, tired but smiling. The rush of activity which caught the next first lady of the land, from the time she arrived early last night carried her along until she boarded a train for New York late this afternoon. The bright smile with which she started the busy round had not been dimmed by the strain of last night's thousands of handshakes in Governor Pinchot's reception room. To many inquirers she repeated the "very excellent" with which she described the dinner costing a total of $2.72 which Mrs. Pinchot had served her and 40-odd others at the executive mansion. To a state conference on malnutrition today she brought a warning that in the "saving of our children lies the future of our country." Welfare and social workers heard her appeal for "wise distribution of relief funds." She stressed the need for making the relief dollar go as far as possible and noted that "we must not accept relief without realization that relief means taxes." Later at an American Legion luncheon she recalled that "the war years trained men and women in self-forgetfulness; it changed them to think and face the problems of today as they must be thought and faced." As a final word she called on Legionnaires to give "the same service today that you have given in the past." Supporters and political opponents of the president-elect conveyed to Mrs. Roosevelt their pledges of support for the new national administration. Speaking before the State Conference on Malnutrition, the wife of the president-elect declared a low resistance and undernourishment of children will subject "them to every kind of illness." "We don't wish to see our country suffer for our not having taken the trouble to see what we could do," she said. She added that the child who is brought up in an undernourished condition is "usually the one we find later in our prisons and insane asylums." Mrs. Roosevelt made a plea for wise distribution of relief funds. "Relief money must go as far as possible," she said. "We have no right to waste it. We must accept relief without realization that relief means taxes. Whatever kind of relief we go in for has some effect on the future." Mrs. Roosevelt said, despite the fact that the nation's food supply remains a "wonderful ignorance of child problems and how to care for undernourished children." "All relief purely is a temporary basis of a great problem," she said. "It is a necessity for the time being. I hope that, as a nation, we learn several important things, how to cook, how to buy foods in the best possible way, and how to use these foods as they should be used."

The wife of the president-elect urged greater economy in living by the people of the nation, asserting there is a great amount of extraordinary extravagance, especially among the "poorest people, and it is surprising how little they get out of their money." She pleaded for greater individual effort in assisting mothers to care for their undernourished children. experts to be more than ten times as great as the demand.

MRS. RINGLING NAMED IN ALIENATION SUIT

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The New York American says Mrs. Emily Ringling, the circus man, has been served with the complaint in a $250,000 alienation of affections suit. Her brother-in-law, Francis X. Kelly, brought the action, charging that Mrs. Ringling persuaded his wife, Allen, to leave him. Mrs. Kelly is now in Florida.

Lion Slayer To Accept Panther Hunt Invitation

JACKSON, Miss., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Denver M. Wright, St. Louis manufacturer and "synthetic" lion hunter, has announced that he will accept Mississippi's invitation to track down the vicious panther which farmers are seeking to wipe out in the woods near Saucier, Miss., because of its depredations on stocks.

GUILTY PLEA ENTERED IN SEED LOAN FRAUD

DOTHAN, Ala., Feb. 2.—(AP)—S. A. Mullins, Houston county tax collector, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging violation of the federal seed loan act in United States district court today. He will be sentenced February 9 along with his five sons who entered pleas of guilty to the same charge yesterday.

SINGLE STAFF PLAN PROPOSED FOR GRADY

Group To Supervise All Units
May Be Established at Hospital.

Establishment of one medical and executive staff to supervise all units of Grady hospital in the most revolutionary change ever effected there will be the aim of a joint meeting of the staffs of the white, negro and Steiner units, members of the board of trustees of Grady, Steiner trustees, Mayor James E. Cox, and council members to be held February 14, it became known Thursday.

Heretofore, all units have had their separate medical staffs and there has been recurrent friction over management of the various divisions until recently.

According to reports, all divisions are in sympathy with the single staff plan, and its accomplishment is assured. X-ray services of the various divisions already have been merged and members of the Grady board of trustees, composed of Samuel C. Dobbs, Eugene Harrington, John Smith, Kendall Weisiger, Arthur Harris, believe one medical unit will afford better service with more economy in operation.

There were a total of 183,395 patient days at Grady white and negro units in 1932, it was announced Thursday at a per capita cost of $2.42.

John B. Franklin is superintendent. "Patient days," the superintendent explained, "are obtained by multiplying the number of patients in a ward with the average number of days they remain in the hospital."

The municipal hospital received a total of $551,333.56 for operation, of which $57,179.49 was from the county and the balance from the city. For various clinics in both the white and colored units, the operating expense was $65,000.

Changes in operating personnel at Grady announced Thursday included the shifting of Mrs. Helen Thomason, who has been in the X-ray department, to the investigating department of the colored unit, and the transfer of Miss Josephine Vannerson, a clerk, to the information desk in the white unit. P. H. Hart, who was radiologist when out of town cancer patients were admitted at Steiner clinic, was dropped in the interest of economy, Franklin said.

Isolation Is Ordered For Corliss Palmer

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Corliss Palmer, former screen actress, estranged wife of Eugene V. Brewster, once wealthy magazine publisher, was isolated today at San Francisco hospital on orders of Health Director J. C. Geiger, when attending physicians reported her condition to be "highly neurotic."

Dr. Geiger said precautions had been taken against possible suicide attempts, on advice of her mother, Mrs. Julia Palmer, of Los Angeles, who wrote that she was unable to visit her daughter because she couldn't meet expense of the trip.

The health director said Miss Palmer, who was taken from a local hotel, where she said she had tried to forget in drink her love affair with Al Cohen, Los Angeles tennis star and scoundrel, would be carefully guarded until she had recovered.

Dr. Geiger said she had been placed in a room marked "visitors barred" because of her highly nervous condition, accentuated by strange seeking a glimpse of the former "Georgia peach."

THOMAS MILLER
REGAINS RIGHTS OF CITIZENSHIP

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—President Hoover today signed a certificate restoring citizenship to Thomas W. Miller, of Wilmington, Del., former alien property custodian, who served a sentence in the Atlanta penitentiary for frauds arising out of his handling of some of the property.

Miller was convicted of defrauding the government in a case based on the payment to Richard Merton, a German subject, of $6,453,979 in connection with the sale of the American Metals Company assets, seized by the government during the war.

Application for the restoration of Miller's citizenship rights was signed both by the district attorney and the judge who presided at his trial.

A former secretary of state of Delaware and later a member of congress from that state, Miller has been active recently in the affairs of the American Legion, and last summer was awarded the purple heart decoration.

Elks Sponsor Big Show Sunday
At Paramount for Relief Fund

"The Undercover Man," a Paramount picture featuring George Raft, Nancy Carroll, Roscoe Karnes and Lew Colly, will be presented at the Paramount theatre, on next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The show is sponsored by the Elks Club, which will use the proceeds in its emergency kitchen relief work.

The admission will be only 50 cents, and in addition to seeing the show each person attending will be given a book of 10 meal tickets good for as many meals at the Elks kitchen. Those who will not use the tickets themselves may distribute them to needy persons.

In addition to the main picture there will be a comedy and a Paramount sound newsreel. All these are first-run pictures never before shown in local theaters.

The Gordon Eppley School of Dancing will put on a 1933 Kiddie Revue in which 100 Atlanta children will be featured. One of the most ambitious acts ever originated by this school.

Music will be furnished by Perry Bechtel and his orchestra, and Al Evans will be at the Paramount organ, in an interesting attraction. Sam Allen and "Little Morton Downey" will give a number. Ann Burrell, radio blues singer, will sing, and the Lions Den Trio will be heard.

'Forward Georgia' Move To Utilize
State-Wide System of Publicity

Every filling station operator, hotel, employe and others will be drafted as members of a state-wide publicity bureau, it plans of Forward Georgia Incorporated officials materialize, according to announcement Thursday by Roy LeCraw, president, and an educational campaign to show the tourist that Georgia has many wonders will be launched.

Cognizant of Georgia's resources in climate, historical interest and numerous other attractions, the Forward Georgia workers believe that the tourist business in the state has generous possibilities. Instead of giving the most expeditious routes from point to point, the men who serve the tourist with gasoline will become information bureaus to route the visitors by historical shrines and other attractions.

Mr. LeCraw estimated that the average tourist carries four passengers and that the expense per day for each occupant is $5, while the driver is likely to spend $10 for expenses. Believing that between three and four thousand cars pass through Georgia daily, it was estimated that more than $75,000 is spent by tourists each day in this state.

"Keeping those tourists in Georgia as many days as possible will prove a benefit to citizens," Mr. LeCraw said. Offices for the Forward Georgia Incorporated are at 85 Poplar street.

Murray Wins Fight To Oust Roads Official

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Governor W. H. Murray today won his fight to oust Low Wentz, wealthy republican and his political foe, from the state highway commission.

The Oklahoma house passed the senate highway reorganization bill creating a new road commission and the measure now goes to the governor. The announced purpose of the measure was to provide for the removal of Wentz, a Ponca City oil man. However, the democratic commissioners, Sam Hawks and J. P. McKeel, also will be legislated from office.

The bill will become effective as soon as it is signed, probably within two or three days.

Wentz, serving a six-year term under appointment in 1929 by Governor W. J. Holloway, declined to resign when Murray became governor.

and the personnel is the same committee which last year carried the Back-to-the-Farm campaign to successful results, it promoted Georgia products, held a mammoth Forward Georgia meeting on Georgia Day and is incorporated to facilitate expanding activities.

BALTIMORE MOTHER, 2 SONS KILLED BY GAS

BALTIMORE, Feb. 2.—(AP)—In health and unhappiness were believed today to have caused the suicide of Mrs. Zella Johnson, whose body, with those of her two small sons, was found by her husband, Howard C. Johnson, in their gas-filled apartment last night.

The body of the six-year-old boy, who had playmates boost him in a window when he found the apartment doors locked yesterday afternoon, was found beside his mother's. He apparently had tried to rouse her. The body of her eight-month-old baby was in a crib.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Very soon now everyone will celebrate the birth of the nation's first president, George Washington. There will be many parties for both young and old, and a few suggestions and ideas along these lines will come in handy. Any such party should have a background of colonial decorations, and games played should be old-fashioned ones.

A costume party is the most interesting way to handle large groups of people. The guests may come in colonial costume, as Betsy Ross, Lafayette, Martha or George Washington, Tories, Redcoats and similar historic dress.

Start off a large party with a grand march, done to the tune of "Yankee Doodle."

Decorations. Hang flags, or drape bunting, at either end of the room, and place a framed picture of George Washington in the center. This picture may be set off with a frame of small hatchets, painted with gilt. Then hang a motto below each picture, representing something patriotic, such as "First in War, First in Peace," "He Never Told a Lie," etc.

Lights in the pie may be shielded with blue-and-white crepe paper, and finished across the bottom with red chenille. Red-white-blue bunting may be stretched diagonally, or rolled together to form ropes, which may be draped from center lights to corners of room.

Choosing Sides for the Games. In a huge paper cherry pie are placed cherries tied with tiny bows of ribbon. In the pie is one cherry tied with red-white-blue ribbon in flag form, and one cherry tied with the Union Jack design. The rest of the cherries are tied in equal number, with red ribbons for the Redcoats, or British, and the other half blue for the Americans. For all the games and pantomimes, the possessors of the red ribbon line up behind the one who drew out the Union Jack colors, and the ones who drew out the blue ribbons line up behind the one who drew the red-white-blue flag. Have the guests each draw a cherry out of the pie, without looking.

Games. First is an old-fashioned spelling bee, with the host giving out patriotic words for each side to spell. The side that wins is the first to put on the pantomime of the evening.

Then chopping down the cherry tree is a good game, especially at children's or young people's party. The two sides form parallel to each other at one end of the room, with the captain of each side at the front of the line. This game may also be called crossing the Delaware, when all that is necessary is for each player to cross over a certain line in turn.

To cut down the cherry trees, each player must have a turn at chopping the tree. At the opposite end of the room are two paper cherry trees, with blossoms and everything. The leader has a hatchet—each leader has one. At a signal the leader from each side runs toward his own cherry tree, chops it down with his hatchet, sets the tree up again, and races with the hatchet to the next in line, who does the same. This is continued until the last man on one side returns to his team with his hatchet.

Pantomimes. These are enacted turn and turn about by the Redcoats and the Revolutionists. A sheet is hung at one end of the room, with enough space behind it for the actors and their properties. The team that won the spelling bee has the first chance to set out the pantomime they selected. They go behind the sheet, appoint a monitor or two to watch the audience and catch the foolish ones who laugh.

Frilly lace cuffs, paper boat sides, three-cornered hat, cherry tree, hatchet, flags, Betsy Ross aprons, and other easily procurable "properties" are provided behind the scenes. The team then decides upon the pantomime and works it up, finally coming out in front of the sheet and acting out the event in the life of Washington they wish to depict. The object is to make the audience laugh. But anyone in the audience who laughs is immediately seized by one of the monitors, and stripped of his insignia. Even the leaders are not exempt. If desired to make the arrangements, the actors may perform behind the sheet, a light from behind throwing the silhouette on the screen. The one side holds the stage, until those left in the audience guess the event pantomimed correctly, then the audience does the pantomiming. Those who lose their ribbons cannot act.

Refreshments. Buffet Supper No. 1. Molded Cherry Jelly Salad. Potato Chips. Hot Rolls. Individual Cherry Tarts. Coffee. Buffet Supper No. 2. Patriotic Salad. Hatchet Sandwiches. Cherry Sherbet. Coffee.

Molded Cherry Jelly Salad. Two cups drained canned white cherries, 1 cup nuts, 1 package cherry jello, 2 cups boiling water. Method: Make the jello with the boiling water; cool; when barely set, add the cherries and nuts. Let set in individual jelly molds, previously rinsed with cold water. Serve unmolded on slices of pineapple, and garnish top of each with bits of white cream cheese and candied or maraschino cherries. Serve with mayonnaise at side of salad.

Cherry Sherbet. One quart red cherry juice, 2 egg whites, 2 lemons, 2 cups sugar, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 2 oranges. Method: Add sugar to cherry juice and bring to boil. Stir in the gelatin which has been soaked in small amount cold water. Remove from fire, add juice of lemons and oranges and one teaspoon almond extract. Dilute the mixture with water till the desired strength, strain and freeze. When nearly frozen, fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and a few of the red cherries chopped fine. Pack in ice, or in trays of mechanical refrigerator, about an hour before serving.

Hatchet Sandwiches. Cut whole wheat bread sandwiches with hatchet-shaped cookie cutters. After the sandwiches are made, fill the sandwiches with cream cheese and chopped maraschino cherry mixture. These sandwiches may be made up some time before using, if wrapped in clean damp cloth and kept in refrigerator.

Patriotic Salad. Two packages jello, one cherry and fore adding the next, and have all layers cold.

For red layer, make up the package of cherry jello, adding the chopped, drained red cherries to it when partially set. Pour it into bottom of bread pan and place in cold place to set.

For white layer, make up the package of lemon jello, let it get cold and partially set, then beat with egg beater till frothy, beat in the cream cheese and add the almonds. Pour on top of the red layer when almost set.

For blue layer, pour the cup of boiling water over 2 1/2 tablespoons plain gelatin previously soaked in little cold water. When dissolved, cool, then add grapejuice. Sweeten if necessary. Cool till almost set, then pour on top of the white layer.

Set the pan away until thoroughly jellied. Serve by cutting in thin, crosswise slices, and pipe a little mayonnaise around the outside of salad, which may be placed on lettuce if desired. This is beautiful if you will use care in assembling it, and it needs a large bread pan to hold it. Unmold the pan onto flat plate to cut.

POLICE HOLD SALESMAN REPORTING $250 THEFT

Arrested by police after he had reported that two armed negro bandits robbed him of $250 early Thursday night, V. L. Crow, 30, of 811 Peoples street, S. W., a salesman for the American Laundry Company, was being held at the police station on a charge of suspicion.

Crow told officers three negroes in a car stopped him at Astor avenue and Sylvan road, and that two got out and forced him to drive more than a mile down Perkerson road, where they relieved him of his cash. Officers said Crow had been drinking and was unable to explain satisfactorily several details of the robbery. He is being held for investigation.

RALEIGH, N. C., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Leo Carr, Burlington attorney, today was appointed solicitor of the tenth judicial district by Governor Ehringhaus to succeed Congressman-elect William B. Umstead, who resigned.

Missing Girl Found Slain in New York

MINEOLA, L. I., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The body of Mary Ellen O'Connor, 15, who has been widely sought since she dropped from sight January 27, was found today by a seeker for firewood in a lonely section of Long Island near Massapequa.

Police said she apparently had been dead about four days, that her head had been crushed at the base of the skull and that she had been criminally assaulted.

The girl left her home in Rockaway Park January 27 to visit relatives in Floral Park, L. I., which is about 15 miles from the scene of her death. She was not seen again.

Police Inspector Harold King, who went over the ground carefully, said the girl apparently had been attacked and killed about 200 yards from the spot where her body lay, covered carelessly with her own gray, fur-trimmed coat.

HITLER DEMANDS FOUR-YEAR TRIAL

Chancellor Challenges
Germany To "Crucify"
Him If He Fails.

BY LOUIS P. LOCHNER.
BERLIN, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler, who took over the reins of government four days ago, today renewed his plea for four years of power, challenging his countrymen to "crucify me or do anything else to me" if his policies have not succeeded in that time.

Give Me Four Years.
"The other side had things all their own way for 14 years, and look at the result!" he told his visitors. "Give us four years, the legal period of a reichstag, and then let the country sit in judgment. Let them crucify me or do anything else they want to me if at the end of four years we have not succeeded."

"I hope the people of the world realize what is going on in Germany," he said. "There can be no middle course here. Either the red flag of bolshevism will be hoisted soon or Germany will find herself again."

"I want to appeal to the press of the world not to form premature judgments on the events that are taking place. Please judge Germany's new government by its deeds, and take its deeds as a whole, not as isolated incidents."

"We can only guess what the results of another war would be, and nobody wants peace more than I do—more than the German people do."

He spoke with tremendous earnestness. "But we must insist on equality with other nations and on our rightful place in the world. I cannot think that any patriot in any country would do any differently than we are doing for our country. Naturally, my first concern is Germany."

Mississippi Governor Names Woman Sheriff

GULFPORT, Miss., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Mrs. Virginia Greaves Huggins Wednesday was sworn in as sheriff of Harrison county to succeed her late husband, C. P. Huggins, who died last week after a brief illness.

Mrs. Huggins, first woman to serve as sheriff on the Mississippi coast, was appointed to the post by Governor Sennett Conner, a schoolmate of the late sheriff, pending a special election to be called by the county board of supervisors. The recess appointee said she would be a candidate for the office in that election.

In taking active charge of the office today, Mrs. Huggins posted $100,000 bond as tax collector and $20,000 bond as sheriff and reappointed virtually the entire personnel of deputies who served under her husband.

MARIAN NIXON ASKS DIVORCE FROM SON OF RICH MERCHANT

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Marian Nixon, screen actress, has filed suit for divorce against Edward Hillman Jr., son of a Chicago merchant, obtaining a temporary order restraining Hillman from entering the couple's Beverly Hills home or from molesting her.

Her complaint charges Hillman with using abusive language toward her and indulging excessively in intoxicants on occasions to the detriment of her work. It asserts on last Thanksgiving he struck her.

The actress asks no alimony, despite the fact her husband is reported to have a large income from a trust fund. The complaint revealed no property settlement has been effected.

Hillman appeared in the courtroom when told the divorce complaint had been filed.

"I can't believe it," he exclaimed. "Marian and I have been married in Chicago August 11, 1929. She was divorced from her first husband, Joe Benjamin, boxer."

DR. CORNELIUS WARE DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Prominent Specialist Was Popular in Fraternal,
Medical Circles.

Dr. Cornelius Edward Ware, 43, widely known Atlanta specialist, of 1028 St. Charles avenue, died Thursday morning at the residence of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Garrett, of Center Hill.

Dr. Ware, an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, contracted pneumonia last Saturday while visiting Mr. and Mrs. Garrett.

Prominent in fraternal and medical circles, Dr. Ware was born and reared in Atlanta. He attended Atlanta public schools and the O. Emory University Medical College, serving as interne at Grady hospital and the City Contagious hospital. For two years he was associated with the Brooklyn Eye and Ear hospital and for the last 11 years had practiced in Atlanta, maintaining offices in the First National Bank building.

At the time of his death he was a member of the visiting staff of both Grady hospital and the Georgia Baptist hospital. He was a member of the Fulton County Medical Society, in which he had been active, and of the First Methodist church.

Dr. Ware had taken a deep interest in fraternal affairs, and was a Mason, a Shriner, and a charter member of the Yacht club. He was well known in his profession and was considered by his associates as a leading specialist.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Cornelius Edward Ware Jr.; a brother, Dr. M. J. Ware, of Griffin, and a nephew, Jack Ware, also of Griffin. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon at the Peachtree chapel of Brandon, Bond & Condon.

Members of the Fulton County Medical Association will act as honorary escorts and pallbearers.

House Raises Funds For Industrial Probes

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The House today raised the appropriation for the federal trade commission from $510,000 to $801,476.

The teller's vote on the amendment by Representative Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, was 111 to 85.

Just previously, however, the House voted down a proposed amendment by Representative Cochran, democrat, Missouri, to raise the trade commission appropriation to $1,000,000.

This would have allowed the carrying ahead of proposed new commission investigations.

The Bankhead amendment provides only for the carrying out of inquiries now under way, including the inquiry into public utilities.

Jobless Atlanta Man Takes Poison Dose

Despondent over continued unemployment, according to police, J. H. Adams, 28, of 72 Baker street, took poison Thursday night in a drugstore at Spring and Baker streets and was admitted to Grady hospital for observation. His condition was undetermined. Adams said he could not find work. He is married.

New Volunteer Store Opens

The picture shows the latest Volunteer store which has just been opened by E. W. and F. C. Rodgers at 2000 Boulevard drive, S. E., in South Kirkwood. The store in appearance and equipment is typical of the Volunteer system. It is completely equipped, and additional clerks were required to take care of the trade. There are now over 50 stores in this system in Atlanta. All are outstanding individual merchants who employ co-operative buying and advertising methods. The Volunteers are sponsored by the Kelley Brothers Company, pioneer Atlanta wholesalers.

Georgia Frees Convict in Illinois, Turns Over Prisoner to Michigan

Georgia Thursday permitted one of its escaped alleged criminals to remain in Illinois, where he was caught, and sent another back to Michigan, where he is wanted for trial.

The prisoner caught in Illinois was Jack Roberts, who fled the Stone Mountain camp three months ago. When notified of Roberts' arrest, Captain A. A. Clarke, superintendent of public works for Fulton county, telegraphed that the state isn't interested in Roberts.

Governor Eugene Talmadge during the day honored the request of Governor William A. Comstock, of Michigan, for the extradition of Sam Dunn.

'Dumping' of Cotton by Red Cross Protested by Savannah Exchange

SAVANNAH, Ga., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Savannah Cotton Exchange has gone on record, it was revealed today, as vigorously opposing the method by which the American Red Cross has and continues to dispose of the cotton turned over to it by the federal farm board by congressional authority.

Dumping of a half million bales of cotton on the market has demoralized the market, and has defeated the very purpose congress intended when authorizing the giving of the surplus cotton to the Red Cross for the manufacture of cloth for free distribution among the nation's unemployed, according to A. T. Gannon, president of the Savannah Cotton Exchange.

Mr. Gannon made it clear that the exchange and the Savannah cotton people in general were not opposed to the giving of the cotton for the worthy purpose, but that the protest was against the method the relief or-

Smeeman Is Granted Pardon by Missouri

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Glenn Smeeman, who became a successful Cleveland businessman while a fugitive from justice from two states, today was granted a pardon by Governor Guy B. Park, releasing him from serving any part of a two-year sentence for automobile theft in St. Louis in 1918.

After a hearing lasting more than half an hour, Governor Park told Smeeman: "I'm going to let you go home. It would serve no useful purpose to keep you here."

Only a few days ago Smeeman was granted a commutation of sentence by Governor Edwin C. Johnson, of Colorado, his 3 1/2-year sentence being reduced to the six months he had served previous to his escape from a road gang in 1918.

Practically all the cotton people of Savannah and others not directly interested in cotton have written or telegraphed protests to senators and representatives in congress.

Asked for a statement on the situation, Mr. Gannon said:

"The Savannah Cotton Exchange is protesting, not against the Red Cross getting the farm board cotton, but against the method in which this cotton is handled."

"The intention of congress was for the Red Cross to trade the actual cotton with the spinners for goods. Instead of doing this, the first half million bales were sold on the open market, and the proceeds were used to purchase cotton cloth."

"In selling the cotton on the open market, the Red Cross has demoralized prices, just exactly opposite what congress had intended doing. If this practice continues, we oppose any further cotton being given the Red Cross."

"The idea of congress in turning over to the Red Cross this cotton—that the cotton be spun into goods that would be given to the people who could not buy cotton goods. This method would not deprive the spinner of his market because the people who received the goods created no market because they could not purchase the goods anyway."

"At the same time the method congress had intended being used would have removed 500,000 bales from the burdensome surplus."

"The money the Red Cross received for the 500,000 bales of cotton was sufficient to purchase manufactured goods representing, say, only about 100,000 bales of cotton. These figures, of course, are only approximate. This would mean 400,000 bales dumped and this dumping happened, too, at the very time when legitimate selling was being removed."

FINANCE COMPANIES TO FOLLOW CONTRACTS

No General Modification
Contemplated in Installment Collections.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Credit finance companies which carry a large part of automobile installment paper say they are not considering any general modification of their contract requirements.

Officials of these concerns assert that the installment debtor, having isolated cases, is not faced by the same conditions which affect farm and other property holders.

The companies, however, are willing to have it known that they are not indifferent to the difficulties of individual debtors. The owner of an automobile bought on time who finds himself in temporary embarrassment is dealt with as leniently as possible "consistent with sound business principles," it was explained.

It was said that the drastic deflation and liquidation of installment accounts since 1929 removes the necessity for any general departure from the established collection terms.

Ford Plants Expected To Be Reopened Soon

DETROIT, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Reopening early next week of Ford Motor Company factories throughout the country, shut down a week ago when a strike at the plants of the Briggs Manufacturing Company cut off their supply of auto bodies, was indicated tonight.

Officials of the Briggs Company, reporting nearly 4,000 men had returned to work, today said they were shipping a "steady flow" of bodies to the Ford Company. It was learned at the same time that workers began returning in small numbers to the Ford Company's Rouge plant in Dearborn as the various departments reopened.

When bodies shipped by the Briggs Company maintain a steady flow at the Detroit and other factories of the Ford Company, it was indicated that production will get into full swing in all Ford plants. This, it was estimated today, probably will be early next week.

More than 1,500 men and women, seeking employment, lined up at the gates of the Briggs Company's Highland Park plant today. The company, however, declared they had sufficient unskilled labor and said they were accepting only trained workers.

...AND ANOTHER WOMAN CHANGES TO CALUMET

In baking powder, as in so many other things, the real economy is the final result.

How foolish to use any but a tried and true baking powder! Saving a few pennies at the grocer's, but losing a reputation as a good cook! After a man has once enjoyed the light, fluffy waffles, delicious cakes and biscuits that Calumet makes, it's pretty hard to get him used to ordinary baking.

Any way you look at it, Calumet is the real baking powder bargain! Reasonable price—perfect results—and you use less, because Calumet goes further! Only one teaspoon to a cup of sifted flour—that's the thrifty standard proportion with Calumet.

This small proportion is made possible by Calumet's wonderful efficiency—its scientifically controlled Double-Action. For Calumet acts twice—first in the mixing bowl—and then in the oven. And it is this marvelous second action which holds your batter high and light all through the baking.

1st ACTION 2nd ACTION

GET PROOF! See Calumet act twice! These pictures illustrate the famous Calumet Double-Action Test. You'll find full directions for making this easy test inside every Calumet can. Try it! See for yourself how Calumet acts twice to make your baking better.

Here's the secret of A sunny disposition

LOOK around at your friends. Isn't it a fact that those who are happy and cheerful are folks who enjoy good health? The two go together.

Poor health reflects itself in your manner to other people. Too often, lack of personality can be traced to constipation. It may cause loss of appetite and energy. Yet it can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that in leafy vegetables.

ALL-BRAN also contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal weight of beef liver.

Special cooking, flavoring and krumbling processes make Kellogg's ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. You will find it far more pleasant to enjoy a cereal in place of taking patent medicines. So much wiser too.

Two tablespoonfuls daily of Kellogg's ALL-BRAN will overcome most types of constipation. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. In the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"When you're healthy, you're happy"

"How you feel — and how well you look — depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced — with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."

PATRONAGE PROBLEM PUZZLES SENATORS

Fred B. Wilson, Atlanta, in Capital to Advise With Senator George.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Georgia patronage matters which will come prominently to the front after the inauguration of President-elect Roosevelt next month were discussed in a conference here today between Senator Walter F. George and Fred B. Wilson, of Atlanta.

Mr. Wilson, a well-known Atlanta businessman, is understood to have come to Washington at the instigation of a number of Senator George's friends throughout the state who are interested in seeing that the patronage problem is handled in a way best suited to keep down friction among the several competing candidates for federal jobs.

Present indications are that there will be as many as a dozen applicants for every major appointment. The problem of filling the various offices expeditiously without leaving some spots in one that neither Senator George nor Senator Richard B. Russell Jr. looks forward to with any degree of favor. Disappointments are in store for many by the very nature of things.

Postoffices to Congressmen.
The Atlanta man, long a warm supporter of Senator George, has been in Washington for the past two days discussing patronage and other subjects with the state delegation. Whether any concrete plan was proposed for filling the jobs is not known. Mr. Wilson, while declining to discuss details of his conference with the senator, made it plain that he is not a candidate for any office himself. His mission was described as purely in the interest of Senator George and his friends.

Pending some definite announcement of a policy, the understanding is that postmaster vacancies, for the most part, will be filled by the congressmen in the districts where the postoffices are located. Subject, of course, to civil service regulations pertaining to examinations and a certified list of eligibles.

All other offices will be left to the two senators, although in many instances individual congressmen and officials of the state democratic organization will be consulted and asked for recommendations.

Some conflict seems certain to arise between Senator George and Senator Russell over certain of the major offices since both have their own friends, but there is no present indication that the situation cannot be ironed out smoothly in practically every case.

An understanding has been suggested between the two senators whereby all major appointments in the northern district will be left to Senator Russell and all those in the middle district given to Senator George, with some joint action for the southern district.

The major offices involved include collector of internal revenue, collector of customs at Savannah, the three United States district attorneys, a number of deputy collectors, district attorneys and marshals, together with a varied assortment of departmental offices.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salt, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a more movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile every hour to keep your system in motion.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blotches. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name, Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Remotest a substitute. 35c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Warning

Don't be misled by false statements. Calomel, salts, mineral waters, oils, laxative pills and drugs have no effect whatever on the liver or its production of bile. The truth of this statement can be proved by consulting the authoritative medical textbooks published during the past five years.

There are only two known substances which will actually stimulate a torpid or sluggish liver to cleanse and purify itself by increasing its production of bile. These are Soft Mass Pills and both of these substances, and no other advertised medicine on the American market today does contain them.—(adv.)

PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salves

If you think a surgical operation is the only way to get rid of itching, bleeding or protruding Piles, it's because you haven't heard of the harmless internal medicine discovered by a prominent western physician.

After years of study, Dr. J. S. Leonard found the cause of Piles to be internal congestion of blood in the lower bowel—the hemorrhoidal veins flabby, the bowel walls weak; the parts almost dead. Right away the doctor set to work to find a real internal remedy. He succeeded, and after prescribing it for 1,000 patients, with success in over 900 cases, he named his prescription HEM-ROID.

The doctor wants every Pile sufferer to benefit by his discovery, and so there will be no doubting or delay. Jacobs Drug Store and druggists everywhere are authorized to sell HEM-ROID with guarantee of money back if it does not end Piles in any form.

So why waste time on external treatments or think of an operation when HEM-ROID tablets are guaranteed.—(adv.)

Ritz-Carlton To Print It's Menu in English

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—No longer will the uninitiated at a fashionable hotel (Ritz-Carlton) here be nonplussed by such items on the bill of fare as "dinde a la chipolata" or "epaule de mouton a l'espagnole."

Instead, hereafter, if the guest can read English he will have no difficulty in deciding between Thanksgiving roast turkey with chestnuts or roast shoulder of mutton with Spanish onions and tomato sauce. Even such an old favorite as creme a la narsisse has been Anglicized into plain custard ice cream with baked almonds and whipped cream.

mental workers scattered over the state generally.

In the southern district Senator George is thought to be favorable to the appointment of Howell Cose, of Statesboro, for the district attorneyship, while Senator Russell is believed to have in mind Judge Saxton Daniel, of Claxton. This is one of the first jobs to be filled, in view of the recess appointment now held by District Attorney Sheppard, who undoubtedly will go out with the Hoover administration. More time will remain for the other southern district offices, such as collector of the port and United States marshal, since the terms of Collector M. O. Dunning and Marshal Fred Flanders have about a year or so to run.

OPERATION OF SURTAX EXPLAINED BY BURNET

(This is the last of three articles written for the Associated Press by David Burnet, commissioner of internal revenue, explaining the new income tax law.)

By DAVID BURNET.

Commissioner of Internal Revenue.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The normal tax rate is at the rate of 4 per cent on the first $4,000 of net income in excess of the personal exemption, credit for dependents, etc., and at the rate of 8 per cent on the remainder of such excess amounts. The surtax—in computing which many taxpayers make mistakes, usually to their own disadvantage—begins on net incomes in excess of $6,000. The rates increase in accordance with the amount of net income included in varying so-called income tax brackets. The following table shows the surtax due for 1932 upon certain specified amounts of net income. In each instance the first figure is the net income in the net income column to be excluded and the second figure included. The percentage given opposite applies to the excess of income over the first figure in the net income column. The last column gives the total surtax on a net income equal to the second figure in the net income column.

Net Income	Excess	Per. Surtax	Total
$6,000 to $10,000	1	14%	$1,400
$10,000 to $12,000	2	16%	$1,600

$92,000 to $94,000	43	98%	$9,800
$94,000 to $96,000	44	100%	$10,000

The rate continues to increase 1 per cent each $2,000 until at $100,000 income it is 47 per cent, or $22,400. From that point on:

Net Income	Excess	Per. Surtax	Total
$100,000 to $150,000	45	49%	$10,900
$150,000 to $200,000	46	51%	$11,900

$800,000 to $850,000	59	77%	$24,900
$850,000 to $900,000	60	79%	$25,900
$900,000 to $950,000	61	81%	$26,900
$950,000 to $1,000,000	62	83%	$27,900

Following is an example of how to compute the tax on a net income of $14,500, the taxpayer being single and without dependents:

Net income.....$14,500.00
Less personal exemption.....1,000.00
Balance taxable.....13,500.00
Four per cent normal tax on first $4,000.....160.00
Balance of $9,500.00.....9,500.00
Surtax at 14% on $4,000.....560.00
Plus 16% on $5,500.....880.00
Total tax.....$1,500.00

The revenue act of 1932 makes no provision for an earned income credit. Taxpayers are advised to read carefully the instructions on form 1040 relating to the surtax, as well as all instructions thereon, before preparing their returns.

Partnerships as such are not subject to taxation but are required to file returns of income. The individual members of a partnership are, however, taxable upon their distributive shares of the net income of such partnerships, whether distributed or not, and are required to include such distributive shares in their individual returns. Syndicates, pools, joint ventures, etc., are treated under the revenue act of 1932 as partnerships.

Every corporation not expressly exempt from taxation must file a return regardless of the amount of its income if it had a corporate existence during any portion of the taxable year. A corporation which has received a charter, but has never perfected its organization, has transacted no business and had no income from any source, may upon presentation of the facts to the collector be relieved from the necessity of filing a return so long as it remains in an unorganized condition. The return of a corporation should be sworn to by the president, vice president, or other principal officer and by the treasurer or assistant treasurer, and it should be filed with the collector of internal revenue of the district in which is located the principal place of business or principal office or agency of the corporation.

FIVE GYPSY WOMEN ARRESTED IN THEFTS

Five gypsy women and two men were arrested by police Thursday night for investigation in connection with a series of petty robberies and holdups in the city during the last several weeks, according to police reports.

Rosa Stevens, 39, and her nephew, Eli Stevens, 26, among the seven arrested in a house on Fair street near Connelly by Detectives W. B. Martin and D. L. Taylor, were identified by F. P. Shop Thursday night as having robbed him of $5 at his filling station at 619 West Peachtree street a week ago. They were armed, he said.

Others taken were Ada Boswell, 24, of Hapeville; Mable Stevens, 22, also of Hapeville; Ruby Stevens and Mary Stevens, 19, both of a Hunter street address; and Frank Stevens, 20, of Hapeville. All have been released pending further investigation.

Minneapolis Orchestra To Present Matinee, Evening Concerts Today

The world famous Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, with its eminent director, Eugene Ormandy, appears in two concerts today to give Atlanta one of the greatest festivals of symphonic music in its history. At 3 o'clock will be the matinee concert, a program designed for both adults and students and children, and at 8:30 this evening a concert for the members of the Atlanta Music Club and Civic Music Association, of which Mrs. Howard Claude Smith is president. Both concerts will be presented in Wesley Memorial auditorium. The Minneapolis Symphony was brought to Atlanta in a return engagement; this season by the Atlanta Music Club by an overwhelming popular request following the sensational ovation they received in their concert last season.

Tickets for the matinee are on sale at Rich's and Cable's or may be bought at the door, prices for children being 25 cents, for students 50 cents and for adults $1. An adult bringing 10 children will win an admission. There is no ticket sale for the evening concert except to out-of-town people, membership cards to the club being the admission.

Twenty-one different nations are represented in the personnel of the 80 musicians who comprise the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra. Despite their foreign extraction, virtually all are American citizens. "There is no more democratic institution than a symphony orchestra," Eugene Ormandy, conductor, himself a Hungarian by birth, says. "With certain nations having world reputations for artists playing certain instruments, a symphony orchestra almost of necessity must include numerous citizens of foreign lands. Germans are known all over the world as the best brass instrument players. Frenchmen cannot be excelled in playing wood-wind instruments. Czechoslovakia furnishes the best brass players in the world. Native of these three countries, as well as of America, are found in numbers in the Minneapolis symphony; also natives of Albania, Austria, Belgium, Canada, England, Holland, Norway, Poland, Rumania, Russia, Scotland, Sweden and Wales.

The matinee program embraces "March" from "Tannhauser," Wagner; first movement of Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony"; "Bohemian Polka" for solo contra-bass, Kuchynka; "The Worried Drummer" (featuring the percussion instrument), Schreiner; "Waltz of the Flowers," from Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite" (featuring the harp), and overture to "Rienzi," Wagner.

The evening program includes the overture to "Ruslan and Ludmilla," Glinka; "Symphony in D Minor," Cesar Franck; tone poem, "Death and Transfiguration," Richard Strauss; and overture to "Die Fledermaus," Johann Strauss.

Authentic War Picture, 'The Big Drive,' at Grand

Fiction gives way to authentic history on the screen of Loew's Grand theater Friday, when "The Big Drive" starts its week's run. This is a record of actual events of the World War, official government film, made by the various nations participating, and showing scenes which have not previously been available to the public.

Cameras have their lives to obtain some of the scenes in "The Big Drive." A scene will end abruptly, as a great shell explodes in the foreground, and the spectator is told that the reason for the abruptness is that a piece of the exploding shell struck the man who entered the field of battle armed with his camera, not seeking to kill, but rather to give to the world a true and unvarnished story of war.

One scene which will live long in the memory of every spectator is that of conflict between an American soldier and a German. In a narrow trench, the camera saw and recorded their grim battle for life. This is no make-believe, but real fighting, and the blood which spurts forth when one soldier draws his bayonet and slabs the other, is life blood, and the still figure lying on the ground is a corpse, a victim of war.

During the World War each nation kept an official camera record of its fighting. This film is made of scenes assembled from the archives of all the warring nations.

Throughout "The Big Drive" the spectator sees, from mobilization to the Armistice, the story of the war told literally, not by actors, but by the men who actually lived and died from 1914 to 1918.

Role in First U. S. War Death Recalled to Atlantant by Film

Burial near Lunerville, France, of the first American soldier to be killed in the World War, is shown in the picture at the top. The man, killed on outpost duty in November, 1917, was named Gresham. Below is a photograph of Bill Mason, news photographer, who relieved Gresham, but who never saw him until he recognized the incident in official war films at the Grand theater.

A cold, cloudy night in November, 1917. The 15th Infantry, first division, A. E. F., was "filling in" on what was thought was a quiet sector near the town of Lunerville, in France. The 26th Infantry was relieving the 15th on this particular night. The Lunerville sector was comparatively quiet, but in the far-away distance the rumble of the nine-point-nines of the French army kept up a muffled thunder, telling of an engagement with the Germans.

Out across No Man's Land a patrol of eight was escorting. Bill Mason, private, first division, assigned to outpost duty for the night. Bill later was to become one of the best-known news photographers in Atlanta. But he didn't feel it that night. He was carrying an automatic rifle, and he admits he didn't think well of the future. He was listening to the razing members of the escort were giving him about his immediate predecessor—the first American soldier killed in the World War. He had been in the very thick before, and in the very thick outpost that Mason was to occupy alone that night.

"They cut Gresham's throat—with a bayonet," said one of the patrol, speaking deliberately, as pictures made a grisly sound with his mouth, significant of a bayonet gashing through flesh. . . . Bill says he felt wobbly about it that night. He was carrying an automatic rifle, and he admits he didn't think well of the future. He was listening to the razing members of the escort were giving him about his immediate predecessor—the first American soldier killed in the World War. He had been in the very thick before, and in the very thick outpost that Mason was to occupy alone that night.

Bill Mason never saw Gresham—until last Monday, more than 15 years after the night he filled the dead man's place. In the cavernous gloom of the Grand theater they were showing a preview of some United States speaking definitely, as pictures made a grisly sound with his mouth, significant of a bayonet gashing through flesh. . . . Bill says he felt wobbly about it that night. He was carrying an automatic rifle, and he admits he didn't think well of the future. He was listening to the razing members of the escort were giving him about his immediate predecessor—the first American soldier killed in the World War. He had been in the very thick before, and in the very thick outpost that Mason was to occupy alone that night.

Gresham, first American soldier to be killed in the World War—slain by Germans on outpost duty near Lunerville, France, in November, 1917, the voice behind the screen said.

And Mason realized that he was seeing, for the first time, the body of this fellow who he had taken in the Lunerville shell-hole. . . . Since the war, Mason has "taken" a lot of pictures himself. But he says the one of this fellow was being taken away on the stretcher gave him his greatest shock.

Mason served throughout the war. He was in nine engagements, including three major "big pushes." He has just received notice from the war department that for his meritorious service and wounds—he was three times wounded in action—he has been awarded the Purple Heart, coveted and rare medal of honor for valorous service. The medal will be sent to Atlanta in the near future and is expected to be presented by some veterans' organization as well as in the presence of regular soldiers stationed at Fort McPherson.

The pictures of the real action during the "big push" in which Mason recognized the body of the first man slain in the A. E. F. will be shown in the Grand for a week starting today.

FARM AID FORCES FAST LOSING HOPE

Little Chance Is Seen for Congressional Enactment at This Session.
By the Associated Press.
Sponsors of the domestic allotment farm price-raising bill are fast losing hope for ultimate enactment at this session of congress while the legality of "penalty" foreclosure sales of mortgaged farm property has been placed in Illinois courts, and other states work on moratorium plans.

In Washington yesterday, the price-raising bill left the house with provisions for the advance in price of wheat, cotton, tobacco, hogs, rice, peanuts and dairy products.

Meanwhile, the Oklahoma senate committee started a hearing on a measure to effect a two-year moratorium on mortgage foreclosures, and Governor I. C. Blackwood at Columbia, S. C., was asked by the South Carolina senate to use his influence to secure postponement of real estate mortgage foreclosures.

The Iowa legislature disagreed yesterday on how drastic new relief laws should be. Governor Floyd B. Olson, of Minnesota, announced negotiation of a "gentleman's agreement" with large mortgage holders to halt sales; fifteen large insurance companies in Georgia declared a moratorium; the Inter-City Finance Company at Bowling Green, Ohio, declared a 60-day moratorium; and a state-wide milk strike was threatened in Wisconsin.

JURY COMPLETED TO TRY 'CURLY' GUY

State To Demand Death Penalty in Slaying of Wanderwell.

LONG BEACH, Cal., Feb. 2.—(AP) A jury was completed today to decide whether curly-haired and smiling William James "Curly" Guy, seaman, killed the professional traveler, Walter Wanderwell, aboard the latter's yacht Carma last December 5 on the eve of an adventure cruise to the South seas.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia, pain, sciatica, pain, neuritis, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "dead" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

At Last! A Champion For Back Seat Drivers

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—The back seat driver long a popular target for criticism and ridicule, has found a champion in one of the nation's leading authorities on traffic problems.

William A. Van Duser, director of vehicles and traffic for the District of Columbia, has high praise for this much-maligned member of the motor family.

"Personally I am in favor of the back seat driver and believe that he performs a useful function," said Van Duser. "He, or she, is almost as important as a sailor on the prow of a ship, who frequently points out to the captain on the bridge objects which the captain may not have observed."

"The back seat driver has through timely warning prevented many accidents and I believe he deserves to be promoted to the rank of assistant driver," he continued.

asserted that Guy, actuated by hatred growing out of a quarrel in South America, trailed Wanderwell to Los Angeles, boarded his yacht at its Long Beach moorings the night of December 5 and shot the traveler in the back just as he was completing preparations to take an odd assortment of company—youngee son of an English duke, a roustabout, an authoress, a waitress and others—on a voyage to little-known parts of the world.

The jury was chosen with unexpected speed during a session confused by the violent attempts of an eager throng to gain admittance to the courtroom. Only 300 were permitted inside. Hundreds who were denied entry tore up restraining ropes, broke the hinges off doors and shoved guards aside. Police pushed them back and the guard was increased.

In the knowledge that the state bases part of its case against Guy on alleged identification of the slayer as he inquired for Wanderwell through a portfolio of the Carma, Defense Attorney Eugene McGinn said he would ask that the yacht, a former run-runner seized by the government, be brought to a pier from the shipyard where it has been undergoing repairs.

McGinn will request, he said, that the jurors be taken aboard the Carma at night, so they might judge how much might have been seen by members of projected cruise. Several of them were seated in a dining saloon when the portfolio framed the mysterious face, and several said they saw Wanderwell and his sinister visitor in conversation shortly before the fatal shot was heard.

Prosecutors served notice at the opening of the trial today that they would demand the death penalty for Guy.

On the Air Today

"Sunshine," of the famous CBS blackface team of "Snowball and Sunshine," is back on the air Friday afternoon at 6:15 in a new program scheduled for every Monday, Wednesday and Friday over station WGST.

Bernie Cummins and his orchestra, here for the Pan-Hellenic dances at Georgia Tech, will give two more programs over WGST tonight, the first from the Shrine Mosque from 7:15 to 7:30 o'clock, and the second from the same location from 11 to 11:30 o'clock.

Nino Martini, the brilliant young Italian tenor who recently introduced the highest tenor aria ever written to the radio audience, will be heard singing one of the most popular of English melodies, Tate's "Somewhere a Voice is Calling," tonight from 10 to 10:30 o'clock. The remainder of his program over WGST will be devoted to Italian and Spanish compositions.

Howard Barlow and the Columbia symphony orchestra, who will accompany Martini in his solo numbers, will play the familiar Wagner "Flying Dutchman" overture, selections from the ballet music of Gounod's "Faust," and the oriental tone sketch, "In the Mosque" from Ippolitoff-Ivanoff's "Caucasian Sketches."

"Santa Lucia Lontana," a rarely heard Venetian folk melody, Mate's "Non e Ver" (It is not True), and the Spanish composition, "Mi Pobre Reja," of Tabuyo, will complete Martini's contribution to the broadcast.

"Rio Rita" and "The Rangers' Song," hits of the Ziegfeld production of "Rio Rita," will open Arthur Tracy's program over the WGST-Columbia network tonight at 9:30 o'clock. Accompanied by his mellow accordion, the Street Singer next will be heard in "Night Shall Be Filled With Music." His final group will be made up of two numbers: Schubert's "Serenade" and the ever-popular waltz, "Three O'Clock in the Morning."

Alexander Semmler, concert pianist, will feature the difficult Ballade in G Minor by Chopin when he is heard in his weekly recital of classic selections today from 2:45 to 3 p. m.

An interview with the earth's oldest inhabitant will be the feature of the elementary science class of the American School of the Air to be broadcast over WGST and a Columbia network from 1 to 1:30 p. m. today.

Mary Eastman, soprano winner of the Atwater Kent contest for New York state, will feature a group of popular musical comedy selections when she appears as soloist with Andre Kostelanetz and his orchestra tonight from 8:15 to 8:30 o'clock. Romberg's tuneful love song, "One Kiss," from "New Moon," and the querulous "I Don't Know" from "Charlot's Revue," will be among the selections heard.

THAT UPSET MORNING FEELING YOU HAVE

Nine Chances in Ten It's "Acid Stomach" How You Can Easily Correct It

Almost Instant Relief This Way

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

According to many authorities, some 80% of the people of today have acid stomach. This because so many foods, comprising the modern diet, are acid forming foods.

It usually makes itself felt in headaches, nausea, "gas," "biliousness," and most frequently in stomach pains that come about thirty minutes after eating. So you can easily tell if you have it.

Now Quickly and Easily Corrected

If you do have acid stomach, don't worry about it. You can correct it in a very simple manner. Just do this. It will alkalize your acid soaked stomach almost immediately. You will feel like another person.

TAKE—2 teaspoonfuls of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia with a glass of water every morning when you get up. Take another teaspoonful thirty minutes after eating. And another before you go to bed.

What This Does

That's all you do. But you do it regularly, EVERY DAY, so long as you have any symptoms of distress. This acts to neutralize the stomach acids that foster your "upset" stomach, that invite headaches and that feeling of lassitude and lost energy.

Try it. Results will amaze you. Your head will be clear. You'll forget you have a stomach.

BUT—be careful that you get REAL milk of magnesia when you buy; genuine PHILLIPS' Milk of Magnesia. See that the name "Phillips" is stamped clearly on the label.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM.

Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of Genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Fair, Warm Weather Predicted for Today

The ground hog saw his shadow Thursday, but that will make little or no difference to Atlantans, for six more weeks of the mild winter experienced to date will not be a burden on anyone, said George Mindling, United States meteorologist, in making his forecast for today.

The cagey little animal may have scurried back into his hole for six more weeks of winter but Atlanta will probably have fair weather this morning with a reading of 65 degrees. Thursday's lowest was 51 degrees.

The weather Thursday night was to be cloudy and a little colder, said Mr. Mindling, and the mercury will be down to 40 degrees by this morning. However, things will warm up rapidly and before anyone even the ground hog is aware of it the weather will be as warm as that of Thursday afternoon.

Fair weather was general over most of the United States Thursday, said Mr. Mindling, and Mr. Ground Hog must have seen his shadow in practically all states of the union.

'Spook' Induced Will Thrown Out by Jury

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Dr. Frank Bishop's five sisters, who charged "spooks" induced him to will most of his $40,000 estate to Mrs. Gertrude Dickson, spiritualist, won their contest of the will here today as a jury decided in their favor.

"Little Minnie Brown," child ghost, "Chief Mango Wango," "Princess Luluwah" and other spirits who figured in testimony were declared by the jury to be frauds.

The verdict held Dr. Bishop, elderly optometrist, was of unsound mind and that he was prevailed upon to make the will by "fraudulent spiritualistic phenomena."

In Legislative Halls

By BEN COOPER.

Jesse Isidor Straus, New York merchant and member of a prominent Georgia family, Thursday was inducted by the state senate for appointment by President-elect Roosevelt as secretary of commerce. The recommendation was contained in a resolution offered by Senator G. A. Weaver, of Thomaston. Mr. Straus is president of R. H. Macy & Company. The resolution adopted by the senate said that Mr. Straus is a man of wide experience in business in this country, and is familiar with world business conditions, as well as a man of high standing in the nation.

Members of the legislature Thursday were invited by Dr. Cullen R. Gonnell, director of the Emory institute of citizenship, to attend sessions of the citizenship institute and the Georgia press institute at Emory February 7-11.

A memorandum by a committee representing 30 national welfare organizations, stressing the necessity of state relief appropriations, was received by the senate Thursday from Newton D. Baker, chairman of the national citizens' committee, and was referred to the committee on state of the republic. The communication seeks interest and co-operation of legislators in providing for distressed and unemployed persons.

Election of judges of the municipal court of Atlanta by the people instead of appointment by judges of the superior court would be provided in a bill by Senator Walter A. Sims, of Atlanta, passed Thursday by the senate. A similar bill was offered in the previous general assembly, but failed to pass.

Senators Thursday accepted an invitation from Captain L. L. Daniels, construction engineer in charge of work on the new postoffice, to attend the ceremonies at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, February 11, when the cornerstone of the new federal building will be laid. A committee sent to Warm Springs in an effort to have President-elect Roosevelt lay the cornerstone reported that Mr. Roosevelt will be unable to attend.

Bills carrying out the recommendations of Hugh Howell, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, for a moratorium on mortgage foreclosures will be given a public hearing at 7 o'clock Tuesday night in parlor G of the Piedmont hotel. It was announced by general judiciary committee No. 1 of the senate.

A bill making the department of archives and history a direct adjunct of the office of the secretary of state was approved Thursday by general judiciary committee No. 1 of the senate. Although connected with the reorganization bill, the department at present is not directly under the secretary of state, it was said.

The committee also approved senate bills providing felony punishment for colored and white persons having improper relations with each other, providing for tax fl. fas. to be issued against a single property owner instead of several in Fulton county, providing that heirs may convey a valid title, and allowing widows to sell or encumber property set aside for a year's support.

Constitutional amendments committee of the house Thursday voted to make a serious attempt to classify property for taxation. Instructions were given to a special sub-committee to prepare bills expressing the committee's viewpoints that the general assembly should be given constitutional authority to classify property for taxation, adopt different rates and methods for different classes, and segregate for state and local tax purposes, taxes to be uniform on all classes, Representative W. B. Hartfield, of Fulton, expressed opposition to any effort to classify intangibles, declaring that such an amendment would "result in a perfect mase and throw the state into turmoil."

The house ways and means committee Thursday voted unanimously to report unfavorably on a bill by the Brooks delegation which would have increased the allocation of gasoline taxes to counties 100 per cent.

Under the present law the counties now get one cent of the six cents tax on every gallon of gasoline, the money to be used for road building purposes. The bill by Sims and Tillman, of Brooks county, would have increased the allocation to two cents on each gallon.

Representative Shelby Myrick, of Chatham county, and Representative J. Wesley Culpepper, of Fayette county, led the fight on the bill.

Resolutions urging retention of present state prohibition laws and that the beer law not be modified have been adopted by the Baptist Women's Missionary Union of Atlanta and forwarded to the legislature, it was announced Thursday. The resolutions ask that measures to make present laws against alcoholic beverages enforced more effectively be passed and that the legislature use its influence for retention of the national prohibition law. The union represents 9,695 women and young people in 238 organizations in 74 churches, it was said.

A public hearing on the school code commission bill to revise the state school system will be held before a joint meeting of the two house committees and the senate committee on education next Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the hall of the house of representatives.

Members of the house said this hearing would be the only public meeting on the bill.

Senator George W. Feltz Jr., of Guyton, senate floor leader, and Representative Roy Harris, of Richmond county, house floor leader, left Thursday morning for Washington where today and Saturday they will represent the Georgia legislature at the national legislative conference.

A resolution was introduced in the house Thursday by the Coweta delegation asking that the heirs of the late Charles Crankshaw, Atlanta jeweler, be paid for a silver service presented by the state to the U. S. S. Georgia when that vessel was launched in 1905. The act was ordered by the governor but the legislature refused to pay the bill which was $2,065 at that time. The resolution introduced Thursday calls for the payment of $3,620 which includes interest. Several times in recent years resolutions calling for payment have been offered but never adopted.

Proposed consolidation of city and county schools now pending before the legislature will be discussed by Representative George A. Eckford, of Fulton county, at a meeting of the Morningside Civic League at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

The house Thursday received from its judiciary committee No. 1 a favorable report on a bill by Representative Myrick, of Chatham, calling for the repayment of $25,500,000 to counties by the state highway commission. The repayment is for roads constructed before the state highway system was authorized. The expenditure was approved in a constitutional amendment voted on last November. Payments will be made over a period of 10 years. The house set the bill, which is an enabling act, as a special order of business for next Tuesday.

Chesterfields are Milder

WHEN you ask a Chesterfield smoker why that's his brand—he generally comes right out flat-footed and says... "It's because They're Milder!"

So we're going to keep on doing everything we know how to keep them that way.

That's why we look for and buy the mildest and ripest tobaccos we can get. That's why we age them in our warehouses till they're mellow and sweet.

We believe that even the shredding of the tobacco... and the quality of the paper it's rolled in, have a lot to do with the even-drawing, mild smoke that people enjoy in Chesterfields.

You can bank on this... every method known to science is used to make Chesterfield a milder, better-tasting cigarette that satisfies.

Mrs. Stallings Gives Annual Club Report For Georgia Power

Georgia Power Company Women's Club held its annual meeting at the Ansley hotel last Monday and the annual report of the activities of the club was given by Mrs. E. T. Stallings. The report shows that the club has been active in rendering help to the employees of the Georgia Power Company and that 3,807 personal visits were made to the sick during the year. 8,588 get-well cards were mailed, 591 trays of fruits, cigarettes and 521 boxes of flowers were distributed to the shut-ins. Aside from the aforementioned report many pantry showers were given supplying food for shut-ins, and in many instances clothing provided to add to their comfort.

An invalid chair was purchased for a retired trainman who has been ill for eight years. At Christmas 25 families were supplied with substantial list of groceries and fruits and hearts were made happy Christmas when the eyes of little girls and boys beheld the toys sent them by the Georgia Power Company's Club. Members of the club have made sacrifices to accomplish these things under the existing circumstances, but the Georgia Power Company has been liberal in its support of the work, and the contributions have made it possible to answer practically every call for help among the group and to give relief.

The speakers were Jackson P. Dick, assistant general manager of Georgia Power Company; W. E. Mitchell, vice president and general manager of Georgia Power Company; Professor R. L. Ramsey, principal of Fulton High school; E. D. Rivers, speaker of the house of the state legislature, and A. B. Yates, accompanied by Mrs. Starnes, rendered solos. The club's newly organized Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Yates, sang in compliment to Mrs. Stallings.

Business Women's Circle was awarded the record cup and the Ramsey trophy. The record cup is awarded each year to the circle making the best record for the year and the Ramsey trophy is awarded to the circle having the best attendance record. This makes two consecutive years that the business women have won the two awards. Mrs. Stallings was hostess and dinner was served before the meeting.

NEW HAIR VOGUE RAGE IN NEW YORK
NEW YORK'S most popular girls—by thousands—are talking about the new way they are doing their hair to make it soft, lustrous, beautiful.
This way takes just a moment; but how it helps!
All you do is put a little Danderine on your brush each time you arrange your hair. That removes oily film; brings out the natural color of hair; gives it new sparkle and life!
The first applications dissolve the worst crust of dandruff. The hair becomes softer, fluffier, is more easily arranged when Danderine is used. And it stays in place for hours.
Danderine cleanses hair and scalp. Soothes the scalp. Invigorates hair roots. Helps hair grow longer, thicker and more abundant. A fragrant necessity for the well-groomed girl.

Naming of New Anaks and Grand March Feature Ga. Tech Pan-Hellenic Dance

A striking grand march and the naming of new members of the Anax honorary society, featured the brilliant Pan-Hellenic ball of the Georgia Tech interfraternity council held last evening in the Egyptian ballroom of the Shrine mosque and inaugurating the series of mid-winter dances sponsored by the council. Several hundred members of the college and young social contingent, including representatives groups from all the Tech fraternities and popular college belles, were present to dance to the music of a famous out-of-town orchestra.

The present members of the Anax society, which is the highest rating honorary organization at Tech, including Alan Allen Jr., Howard Nebel, Harold Gegenheimer and Syd Williams, were attired in academic caps and gowns. This group in single file marched impressively around the dance floor, in each circuit tapping a new member on the shoulder, and the new member joined the file. New members include the following outstanding students: Jack Adair, Quint Adams, Willard Turnbull, Billy Owens and Charlie Wagner.

Members of the interfraternity council and an equal number of attractive young belles participated in the grand march, which was led by Miss Mary Cobb Hunnicutt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Hunnicutt, and Howard Nebel, president of the council. The young ladies were gown in solid white evening gowns, contrasting effectively with the formal attire of their escorts. Miss Hunnicutt was a slender, graceful figure as she led the march, wearing a stunning model of white crepe, fashioned with wide silver-headed straps which crossed in the back and tied in the center front.

Miss Sara Brown, of Columbus, Ga., and Ivan Allen Jr., vice president of the council, assisted in leading the march. Miss Brown's striking brunet coloring forming an effective contrast with Miss Hunnicutt's Titian coloring.

Among popular visiting belles present for the dance series are Misses Claire Bach, of Hollis College, Va.; Helen Browlow, of Knoxville, Tenn.; Frances Esby, of Dothan, Ala.; Anne Wallace, of Augusta; Sara Roberts, of Monroe; Catherine Green, of Fort Valley; Frances Dudley, of Greenville, S. C.; Sara Brown, of Columbus; Eva Green, of Wilmington, N. C.; Martha Morrison, of Asheville, N. C.; Lucille

Mrs. Wardlaw Elected Honorary President of Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw was elected honorary president of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Scottish Rite hospital, of which Mrs. J. C. Chandler, Harris, is president, at the meeting held yesterday morning at the Atlanta Biltmore. Other officers elected were Mrs. G. Arthur Howell, first vice president and Mrs. Paul Hufsch, second vice president. A summary of the year's achievements was shown in the reports of the chairmen. The financial report was made by Miss Elizabeth Gregg, treasurer.

The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Kirk Hancock, reported four remunerative undertakings including the sale of concessions at General Motors show at Palms Peachtree; Sara Wagstaff Rogers' dance; public opening of the Carnegie recital; lectures given by Dr. Ashby Jones on America in the World's Current Events.

Mrs. William McBurney's report brought an appeal to the general public for penny donations for matches. Through the generosity of friends, matches have been supplied for 38 stations in charge of 11 chairmen who visit the stands regularly, keeping them supplied with matches and collecting pennies for the Scottish Rite hospital match box placed on the counters.

Mrs. Robert Argo gave a brief summary of the aim and history of the memorial bed fund. She stated that much of the work done at the Scottish Rite Hospital for Crippled Children would fail in lasting effect if it were not possible for some of the treatments to be carried on after the patient has been discharged, through the memorial bed established by the auxiliary at the Piedmont hospital. Mrs. Argo stated that last year seven cases were taken care of in the memorial bed and there are now five cases on the waiting list.

Announcement was made that the constant need to supplement the small sum which most of the patients can afford to give toward their braces is met from the Birdie Wardlaw brace fund and the auxiliary expressed gratitude to the donors to the fund, which is considered a vital part of the work.

Mrs. Robert E. Martin reported on the collection of tinoli by her committee. Mrs. Mary Nelson Ream and Miss Katherine Ewing, who supervised the educational work for the past year, made reports.

Work was reported by the group of 15 women, who compose the memorial committee, which meets twice monthly for the mending of house linen and clothing. Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw was chairman of the committee for 1932. The garment committee, through Mrs. Robert Strickland Jr., reported the sewing completed for the year and asked the auxiliary to express appreciation to the Woman's Auxiliary of St. Luke's church for the making of 54 gowns, 24 dresses and 55 hospital gowns.

Mrs. Carl Lewis reported for the surgical dressings, a committee which visits the hospital each week and prepares operating supplies. She stated that 240 yards of gauze have been made up.

During the past year the auxiliary found that a helpful part of its work was the mending of the hospital's service workers. Mrs. Phil L'Engle has collected many garments, which she turned over to the workers. Mrs. L'Engle also reported on the families of patients. Appreciation was expressed to members of the Mimosa Garden Club for its interest and care of the garden at the hospital.

Mrs. Grady Allen was hostess to the members of the Idle Hour Club, Thursday at her home on Metropolitan avenue, in East Atlanta.

Mrs. Carl Crutcher entertained her Sunday school class Friday at her home on Glenwood avenue in honor of the birthday of Miss Verna Tumlin. The guests included the members. Members present were Misses Mary and Verna Tumlin, Frances Egan, Edith Hays, Frances White, Dorothy Williams, Nell Moore, Ruby McMichael, Sarah Yancey, Audrey Mae Hodges and Mary Blot-feller.

At a meeting of the Friendship Sunday school class of Moreland Avenue Baptist church a sewing circle was organized. The members were Mrs. E. Carr.

Miss Lorene Heid entertained members of the Sunbeam class of Moreland Avenue Baptist church Friday at her home on Patterson avenue. Those present were the teachers, Mrs. C. E. Gunthorpe, and Misses Mary Egan, Edith Hays, Frances White, Junilia Martin, Sarah Davis, Rose Cooper and Lorene Heid.

Miss Evelyn and Edna Sherrell entertained at dinner Tuesday evening at their home on Memorial drive. Those present were the teachers, Mrs. E. Carr, and Misses Mary Egan, Edith Hays, Frances White, Junilia Martin, Sarah Davis, Rose Cooper and Lorene Heid.

CULBERTSON ON CONTRACT

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst.

Whist Maxims

Until the development of the modern theory of cards, practically every hand was played on a haphazard basis at the bridge table. The maxims of play which have been handed down from Whist, among these rules, which are sometimes honored in the breach and at others rigidly in the observance, are "Third Hand high" and "never an honor with an honor." The hand below is a case where a strong player recognized that there are exceptions to these rules.

North-South vulnerable.

At every table this hand was opened with a forcing bid of two spades or an initial three-trump by North. South, of course, responded to the opening two-spades bid with three hearts, hoping that the North players bid only three. The Opening three-trump bid, of course, was passed. On the hand we are now dealing, the Opening bid, East opened with the Queen of clubs. North, in each case, took the second club trick with the Ace and the Queen of hearts, hoping that the King would cover. In no case was the King played, and so the contract of three-trump was set 1 trick.

How did North play the hand? The Opening lead was always the Ten of hearts, on which the Queen was invariably played from dummy. At all except one table, East covered the Queen with the King of hearts, allowing South an eventual entry into his hand with the Knave of hearts.

Oglethorpe Signs Auburn To Complete 1933 Football Schedule

Buster Mott, Georgia halfback who closed out his college career last fall, is considering a whirl at pro football next fall along with Stumpy Thomason, "The Little Giant" of the Tech football team in 1927, 1928 and 1929. This in addition to becoming one of the Yankee's baseball proteges this spring and summer.

And what a pro player he'll be! He never really got a chance, while at Georgia, to perform regularly. When he appeared as a sophomore and junior he was able to play but a part of the time because the backfield which was bringing woe to eastern and southern teams was functioning then. And during his senior year he played with a team which never got going and one which did not afford him very much of scrimmage.

Mott played a lot of great football but he produced two bits of play which will be etched forever, with the acid of great drama, on the memories of those who watched him.

The first was the New York University game in 1931. The first half had closed with the Violets, coached by Chick Meehan, now at Manhattan, leading 6 to 0. And the wonder was that the score was not more. McNamara and LaMark had banged the Georgia team around quite a lot in that first half. The Bulldogs, in fact, seemed to be walking right along the brink of disaster. Glasses put on Harry Mehre and the Georgia assistant coaches showed them to be as nervous and restless as prisoners awaiting the verdict.

The second half opened. The ball was kicked off and it came far back. Buster Mott, who was playing to the right of the field, came over and took the ball. He got it at his 2-yard line. The record book says 4 but I can still see Mott, not more than two steps from his own goal line, as he took the ball. But 2 or 4, it doesn't matter. He had it. He sped straight ahead for a while and, as the flying wedge gathered, steamed for the middle of the field with that white shield running ahead of him.

At about the Georgia 40-yard line the two forces met. And Mott somehow seemed to literally burst through it. I got the impression as if someone had been holding up one of those big rings with white paper on it—the sort they have chorus girls burst through to open a scene. And Mott came through and was gone on for a touchdown.

The ubiquitous Catfish Smith, with 40,000 people breathless (this was in the boom year of 1931), kicked the goal. And Georgia held on and won the game.

The second incident was not so dramatic in that it was strung out for almost the half of a football game. It was at Columbus last fall. Georgia was playing Auburn. And Mott was hurt on the third play of the first half. The hurt required seven stitches to close. It was inside his mouth. Every breath and convulsive swallow hurt. And yet he played great football, driving the ball almost alone for some 60 yards until Georgia could score. He destroyed Auburn's morale. They got it back later but for a while one man had him licked.

Mott is a natural athlete. He trains well and works hard. The players at Georgia said that no man on the squad worked as hard as Mott. He'll make a great man in professional football.

SPORT NEEDS PERFORMERS.

Mr. Rell J. Spiller, former owner of the Crackers, was encountered yesterday steaming a misery out of his back. Interviewed as to what baseball prices should be he declared he had not changed his mind since he left baseball. He still thinks the prices should be what they are in the class A minors, 75 cents for the grandstand and 50 cents for the bleachers.

"I think they need those prices to operate," he said. "The trouble seems to be that people have grown a little tired of baseball as they have of boxing and other sports."

The former Cracker owner, who always managed to keep some sort of argument going and hence the name of his ball club in the paper, even if someone was taking a shot at him, managed to draw good crowds despite the fact his ball clubs were never winners.

He is correct in that people have grown a bit tired of baseball. The explanation is obvious. The players seem to have grown a bit tired of their own game. You may paste this away as a sure-fire baseball maxim—the spectators at any sport reflect the spirit of the performers.

That is why wrestling has kept going. The wrestlers were spirited—seemingly near murder all the time. Baseball players have grown spiritless—so have the fans. Boxing was a flame when Dempsey, a flame, was in action. It awaits another slashing, tearing performer to boom again.

Tennis hasn't been the same since Tilden left it. Golf misses Bobby Jones terribly. If it were not for his movies and his forceful personality, it would miss him all the more.

The spectators reflect the spirit of the performers. Your Uncle Wilbert Robinson was not far wrong when he said the ball players themselves were killing the goose that lays the golden egg.

THAT PRICE TAG.

Mr. Rell J. Spiller argued that the sport fan might appreciate lower grocery prices, lower theater prices and lower prices for clothing. But that he didn't consider cost when it came to tickets for sport events.

Maybe not once—but now he does. The sport fan is shopping. There are a few concrete examples. Prices to hockey games were lowered in New York and the crowds more than doubled. Madison Square Garden reduced prices and boxing crowds picked up from nothing to those showing a profit.

The baseball officials saw the Eastern and the American Association clubs wobble and, in some instances, fall last season. There must be some remedy. It is argued that a winner will draw. True. The winners drew last season. But there can only be one winner. And only three or four actually in the race.

There is no need to remove the present prices. But there should be some sections for sale at 25 cents in the bleachers and 50 cents in the grandstands.

JUDGE LANDIS ALSO TO BLAME AS GAME SINKS

High Ruler, Like Others, Pulled Some Prize Boners That Hurt.

By Frederick G. Lieb.

(Copyright, 1933, by the North American Newspaper Alliance, Inc.) In the preparation of this series, I went to see the various baseball men to get their reaction to the question "What is wrong with baseball?" I talked to most of the game's headlines personally, but communicated with Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, high commissioner, by letter. He wrote:

"Dear Mr. Lieb: "Acknowledging receipt of your letter, if you will tell me what the matter with the newspaper business, the banking business, the steel business, the railroad business and every other kind of business, I will tell you what is the matter with baseball."

"Very truly yours, "K. M. LANDIS."

It seems to me the spirit of this reply is one of the things wrong with baseball. I agree with the commissioner that baseball's greatest weakness may be traced to the depression, but I believe in his 12-year administration he may have found a few other things wrong with the game.

OTHER THINGS. With minor leagues tottering even in prosperous times, others trying to save themselves with the doubtful chain store problem, which Landis had fought tooth and nail, and the Olympic committee entertaining visiting foreign athletes with an August football game as the typical American game, I believe there are a few other things the commissioner might have dwelt upon.

Is baseball willing to give itself the same rigid self-examination? Is it willing to accept constructive criticism?

Landis has been a successful commissioner. He took charge of the game early in 1921, shortly after the White Sox crooks and several other players were expelled from the game. Landis, by some, has been termed the savior of baseball. A more numerous coterie gives that distinction to Babe Ruth and his home runs, which stimulated interest early in Landis' regime.

The writer gives the distinction to neither. He always has taken the stand baseball is bigger than any man. If Landis had not been selected, some other public-spirited American would have taken the job.

JUST GOOD COPY. Landis, a dramatic figure on the bench, always had good front page copy and did baseball a good turn by holding his own in the Chicago Federal league suit against "organized baseball" until such time as the rival factions could agree together.

Any man in his job is open to criticism. Ball players frequently have told me he is all for the owners, yet he has suspended them. Club owners by making free agents of their players when he believed they were being "covered up." In some cases he has paid $15,000 and $20,000 to the liberated players who then could dispose of his services to the highest bidder. The commissioner has been tied up with such transactions in the future.

The owners gave him autocratic powers and he has been an autocrat. Landis always has insisted on the absolute letter of the law to the dotting of each i and the crossing of each t. He believes that has been his failing. As the head of a big enterprise, about one-third sport, one-third amusement and one-third business, he always has been a stern judge. As the head of a big professional sport, he never has had any "eye for the gate." I believe one can be an idealist still be a practical business executive.

MORE JUDGE LANDIS. Several years ago he issued a pronouncement against all managers, major and minor, giving out the names of their pitchers in advance. Furthermore, baseball feeds on publicity. If newspapers are not to mention the starting pitchers, to be thoroughly logical, they should keep all knowledge of the game from the gamblers.

To show how this works, last spring the Athletics and Yankees met at the New York stadium. At the time, Gomez then had won something like 14 and lost 1 and Grove's record was 12 and 2. A meeting between them was a "bummer." They met before a crowd of 10,000.

Had it been announced there would have been a 25,000 crowd, and last season the Athletics could have used the proceeds from those extra 15,000 admissions.

The suspensions of Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel for the first 40 days of the 1922 season for drinking, further barnstorming rule after the 1921 World Series is another illustration. I always thought this punishment was unnecessarily severe. Furthermore, it punished Ruppert, Huston and the other seven American league clubs more than it did the offending players.

REALLY HURT GAME. To my mind the judge showed lack of business vision at the last World Series. Times were bad and the Yankees had 75,000 seats to sell. Colonel Ruppert wanted to sell single-game tickets. He also wanted to reserve most of the upper stand for $3, leaving some unsold seats in the wings of the stands for $2 and keep the bleachers at $1. John Heydler, feeling you could not sell 40,000 seats at each game in times like this, also expressed himself in favor of reserving the entire upper stand for $3.

However, Landis held to the letter of the law. He insisted on selling three-game strips and argued that, as the Cubs were charging $5 for all grandstand reservations, it would not do for the Yankee to charge $3. Ruppert argued conditions and prices in baseball should not affect the situation in New York.

Landis' judgment in ordering the first game played in New York after a morning of rain also received criticism. Fans in the outlying districts did not know there was a game, with the result that the opening crowd of 48,000 made the big stands look half empty.

N. A. P. S. Will Play Elberton Tonight

Having been victorious in the first two basketball games of the season, the North Avenue girls are looking forward to playing the Elberton High school team on Friday. This game will be played in the gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock, the admission being 25 cents.

Calhoun's Teams Capture Games

CALHOUN, Ga., Feb. 2.—Calhoun's basketball team won a double victory over Cedartown and Redbud here last night. The Calhoun boys won over Cedartown, 27 to 23, and the girls defeated the Redbud girls, 9 to 6.

Ball Sweepstakes For Women Today

A ball sweepstakes tournament sponsored by the Piedmont Park Women's Golf Association will be played at 9 o'clock this morning on the Piedmont park course.

Prizes will be given for nine-hole play only, but members of the association will be permitted to complete the 18-hole round.

SIMPLER RULES BEST FOR GAME, LITTLE STATES

Forward Pass Restriction To Take Much of First Day's Time.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Conservatism and simplification will be the keynote of American football coaches' deliberations on the 1933 playing code, Lou Little, leader of the advisory committee, said today.

"I think the time has come for making our rules more simple," Little said. "Of course, there is no telling what proposals will be made in our meeting. But I think most of the coaches will have the same attitude that I do."

The football rules committee of the Coaches Association has arranged an all-day meeting on Saturday. This committee has no legislative power. It merely agrees on recommendations which are submitted to the rules committee of the National Collegiate Athletic Association. This latter committee is responsible for the code by which the game is played.

Much of Saturday's deliberations are expected to center around further restriction of the forward pass. Little said that he understood several of the committee members desire to do something which would discourage wild, last-minute passing on the part of losing teams.

"I don't know just what sort of a curb could be made, however," he said. "The only plan that occurs to me would be that of increasing the penalty for a second incomplete pass within a sequence of four downs. The present penalty of five yards for such failure could be stepped up to, say, 10 or 15 yards."

"But then there's Dick Hanley, of Northwestern, who may come out with a proposal to allow a pass from anywhere back of the scrimmage, not merely farther back than five yards," Little said.

Glean (Pop) Warner, formerly of Stanford and now of Temple, is expected to contribute largely to the discussions. He has suggested that the goal posts should be brought back to the goal line as a stimulus to field goal-kicking. He also has evolved a new plan for post kicking.

Warner favors points for first downs as a means of deciding close games and to increase the amount of rushing at the expense of passing and kicking. He is of the opinion that the defense line should be limited to six men. This, of course, would add strength to the attacking side.

The rules committee will meet secretly next week, and a report of its findings is expected to be released about February 13. Walter H. Lewis, chairman of the N. C. A. A. group, He succeeded the late E. K. Hall, of Dartmouth.

GRANT ENTERS SECOND ROUND

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—George M. Grant, of the comeback team, entered the 1933 Davis cup selections, advanced to the quarter-finals of the Pan-American tennis tournament here today without a loss.

He drew a bye in the first round, and came through the second round when J. K. Mooney, of Miami, did not play. Grant then defeated the first round, 6-1, 6-3, and defeated the second round, 6-1, 6-0.

Bryan Grant Jr., of Atlanta, a semifinalist in the all-south, won from A. Charmont, of Miami, in the first round by default, and defeated Count George Du Manoir, of Paris, France, in the second round, 6-1, 6-4.

Gustavo Vollmer, of Cuba, defeated J. Richard Robinson, of Miami, in the first round, 6-1, 6-3, and defeated Philip B. Hawk, of New York, 6-4, 6-2 in the second round.

Others who advanced to the quarter-finals were Jay Cobb, of Chicago; Carroll Turper, of Miami; S. Jarvis Adams, of New York, and Gus Feuer, of Miami.

Smithies Play Stone Mountain

With the postponement of the Tech Monday night on the Henry Grady court, the Tech High team will play the Stone Mountain quintet at 8 o'clock tonight on the new Stone Mountain court.

The Stone Mountain team is leading the interscholastic league with no defeats and has one of the best teams in the history of the school.

Last week Stone Mountain defeated the Smithies reserves and asked for a chance to play the Smithies varsity. The Kingsley Weatherly, former Tech High player, is coach of the undefeated Stone Mountain team.

Ball Sweepstakes For Women Today

Wagner Signs as Coach Of Pittsburgh Pirates

Famous "Flying Dutchman" Returns to Club With Which He Played Entire Career.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Honus Wagner, great shortstop of the Pittsburgh Pirates in the "old days," today signed a contract to return to the Pirates as coach and general assistant to Manager George Gibson.

The "Flying Dutchman" played his entire major league career with the Pittsburgh club. The late Barney Dreyfuss, for many years owner of the team, several times offered the veteran a coaching job but Wagner always declined.

Negotiations for getting Honus back to Forbes field were reopened recently by William E. Benswanger, new president of the club. Today, Wagner, accompanied by Mrs. Wagner, visited Benswanger's office and put his name on the dotted line.

Wagner is 58 years old.

Joe Vosmik Signs After Conference.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Joe Vosmik, outfielder with the Cleveland Indians, signed his 1933 contract today after a short conference with President Alva Bradley and Manager Billy Evans. The original contract tendered him included an increase in salary over last year, and it was reported unofficially that an additional increase was arranged today.

Vosmik is the third player known to have signed contracts for 1933 for the Indians. The others are Bill Cissell, second baseman and Earl Averill, outfielder.

Roy Johnson Signs Contract.

BOSTON, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The signed contract of Roy Johnson, Boston Red Sox outfielder, arrived today from San Francisco, last season he batted .299 in 94 games for the Red Sox after hitting for .251 in 49 games with Detroit.

Durham, Rhyne In Chisox Fold.

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Ed Durham, hurler, and Hal Rhyne, shortstop, have signed contracts for the 1933 season. President Comisky announced today. Durham and Rhyne came to the Pale Hose since the close of the 1932 season in a deal that sent Fothergill, Seeds, Hodapp and Mulevay to the Boston Red Sox.

DUKE WINS.

LYNCHBURG, Va., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Duke University basketball team administered a crushing 40-to-25 defeat today to Washington and Lee tonight in the third of the season's four major games to be played on the new Lynchburg armory floor.

Duke led, 27 to 8, at the half.

P. G. A. Opposes Eight-Inch Cups

CHICAGO, Feb. 2.—(AP)—The Professional Golfers' Association today came out officially as opposed to the use of 8-inch cups, following the action of the United States Golf Association.

"The 8-inch cup is contrary to the best interests and rules of golf," said Albert R. Gates, business administrator of the P. G. A. "We can't allow their use in tournaments sponsored by our organization."

FIRST DIVISION FOR GIANT CLUB, TERRY STATES

Predicts Team Will Finish High If Jackson Comes Through.

By Alan Gould, Associated Press Sports Writer.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Having already battered half his ball club and still in a receptive mood for deals that will give him another experienced outfielder, plus a starting pitcher, Manager Bill Terry, of the Giants, blew into town today, settled himself behind a fresh cigar and wagged a hat his club will finish among the first three in the forthcoming National league pennant race, providing Travis Jackson stages a come-back at shortstop.

"The best two clubs in the league look like Pittsburgh and Chicago," Terry volunteered while being questioned as to whether or not he expected to be in the player market, scheduled for a revival over the week-end with a gathering of baseball men here for midwinter meetings and festivities.

PIRATES TOUGH.

"The Pirates are liable to be especially tough. All I can rest will be troublesome but I do not see how we can be kept out of the first division again, unless all the breaks go against us." The Giants finished in a tie with St. Louis for sixth place last year.

Terry revealed he had failed so far in negotiations with St. Louis for one of a trio of star young Cardinals pitchers—Dizzy Dean, Paul Derringer or Tex Carleton. He will take Dazzy Vance off Brooklyn's hands, he says, if he can get the old Dazzer for a reasonable cash price but he would rather have Johnny Frederick, Dodger outfielder.

So far Brooklyn has spurned all Terry's overtures for Frederick and pretty well closed the door to a possible deal by signing Joe Judge to play first base, instead of taking Sam Leslie, Terry's understudy, from the Giants.

MAX TAKE VANCE.

"We have made no offer for Vance," Terry added, "but I am willing to gamble on him for a year. It's certain we won't let Brooklyn waive him out of the league."

Whether he succeeded in putting through any more deals or not, we will have a well-equipped, hustling young ball club. I think we will have more hitting punch than any club in the league except the Phillies. I am confident Travis Jackson's knees have responded successfully to operations. He is in good shape now and if he is back again in the circuit, we will have the best infield in the circuit.

In addition to Hubbell and Fitzsimmons, we have a number of fine pitching prospects—G. A. Starr, Shores, Schumacher, Farnelle and Spencer. And the deal I am most satisfied with is the one that brought us Gus Mancuso, the best thrower and one of the smartest right-handers in the league.

"As for Manager Terry, I will guarantee he hits at least .350."

BRITISH DRIVER IS RECUPERATING

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Sir Malcolm Campbell, here seeking to break his own world record of 235 miles an hour, spent today resting from his trip from England and recuperating from a recent attack of influenza.

As soon as he regains his strength and beach conditions improve sufficiently, he plans to make several practice runs in his long trim 2,500-horsepower Bluebird racing machine that has not been driven since it recently was remodeled.

Dates for his official assault upon the record, which he established here last year, have been set for February 10 to 20.

His car arrived here Monday and is being tuned up by a crew of mechanics brought over from England. Campbell declined to predict what speed he would attain, but said he was confident of breaking the present record by a wide margin.

PARIS, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Mexico will be the first barrier to United States team in its quest of the Davis cup, according to the draw made today by President Albert Lebrun, of France.

Cuba and Canada will meet in the other first-round match of the North American zone.

Eight-Inch Cups For Miami Open

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 2.—(UP)—Gene Sarazen, apostle of the eight-inch golf cup, announced today that the large cups would be used for the first time in a major event during the first week of March when the Miami-Biltmore club holds its $5,000 open tournament. Gene tried out new cups over the course today and expressed satisfaction with the results.

O'Shocker To Meet George Zaharias

PAT O'Shocker and George Zaharias will headline the next wrestling program here Tuesday night in the auditorium. Promoter Henry Weber announced last night.

O'Shocker, the Terrible Shock, teamed with George Zaharias, the Greek Bad Man, will offer a fine main bout. An attractive semi-final match is now being lined up.

Tony Canzoneri Favored Tonight

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—(UP)—Lightweight Champion Tony Canzoneri is a 3-to-1 favorite to beat Billy Townsend, of Vancouver, tomorrow night in their overnight 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden.

Tony, who previously won and lost the featherweight and junior welterweight crowns, hopes this bout will be a stepping stone toward Jackie Fields' welter title.

GAME SLATED FOR VILLAGE NOVEMBER 11

Petrel Eleven and Baseball Team Bolstered by Martin's Return.

By Jimmy Jones.

Oglethorpe's football schedule for 1933 was completed last night when Auburn officials announced a game between the Plainsmen and the Petrels at Auburn; November 11. The game makes the ninth on Oglethorpe's card for next season and leaves only one open date, which will not be filled.

The scheduling of the game gives Oglethorpe one of the most colorful schedules of any team in the south. The Petrels have games with Alabama, Manhattan, Chattanooga, The Citadel and Mercer among others. They will open their season on September 1 in a night game at Ponce de Leon park with Newberry College of South Carolina.

SCRIMMAGE.

Coach Harold J. Robertson, who has his squad in the midst of a hard spring training season, expects to hold his first scrimmage since practice started today on the campus here. The Petrel coach is considerably heartened over the showing of a young sophomore, Hank Back from Alabama, Lawrence Wade, and the return to school of "Chink" Martin, another back who is best remembered as the star shortstop of the baseball team last spring. Martin was sent to Winder, but unexpectedly returned to the campus in time to start the spring term.

Robertson said his next season's Oglethorpe team would be largely a new one but he is working hard with the material sent up from the freshman ranks. He returns a complete varsity backfield of last year, including Metrick, Harrison, Wren and Hill. He also expects to develop Frank Cobb, a swift boy from Smyrna, Ga., into a good runner. His line will be a mixture of sophomores and a few returning veterans. Dan Kenzie, who is finishing up this spring and "Mammy" Raines are helping the Oglethorpe coach with his spring work.

THE SCHEDULE.

Robertson has his entire squad doing wind sprints the length of the field yesterday in preparation for today's scrimmage.

Following is Oglethorpe's 1933 schedule, complete with the addition of the Auburn game:

Sept. 21—Newberry in Atlanta (night game).

Sept. 30—Alabama in Tuscaloosa.

Oct. 7—Manhattan in New York.

Oct. 14—Chattanooga in Chattanooga.

Oct. 19—Stetson in Atlanta (night game).

Oct. 28—Erskine at Hermance Field, South Carolina.

Nov. 4—The Citadel at Charleston, South Carolina.

Nov. 11—Auburn at Auburn.

Nov. 18—Mercer at Hermance Field (Newberry and Stetson will be played at Ponce de Leon park.)

BULLDOGS MEET LINERS SATURDAY

ATHENS, Ga., Feb. 2.—(AP)—The University of Georgia basketball team heads north this week for a series of three contests, two of which are with Southern conference opponents.

Saturday night the Bulldogs will play the University of Maryland at College Park. On Monday the University of Virginia is to be played at Charlottesville and on Tuesday the college of William and Mary will be played at Williamsburg, Va.

Georgia then returns here to resume its Southeastern conference campaign against Auburn Saturday, February 11.

Following the Auburn game, Georgia has a pair of contests with Clemson and then its "rubber" game with Georgia Tech. This will be the last of the annual three games played between these state rivals, with both holding one victory.

AUBURN, Ala., Feb. 2.—(AP)—Tulane University's basketball team opens a two-game series with Auburn here tomorrow night.

Tulane already has played 12 Southeastern conference games and has lost nine. Auburn has won one of its three loop battles.

The University of Tennessee cage team, which plays Georgia Tech here Saturday, is one of the two teams which have beaten the University of Alabama in the past.

Alabama won from Georgia Tech here last night. Tennessee, which has lost six of its seven Southeastern conference games, beat Alabama about two weeks ago. Coach Roy Mun-dorf believes his Engineers have a real job ahead in seeking a victory over Tennessee.

Yankees Land Two Future Stars

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2.—(AP)—Poking around in the backyards of coast league clubs in this section, Joe Devine, scout for the New York Yankees, has uncovered two prospects he believes are destined to make their marks in big league baseball.

Leonard Gabrielson, so young that he is still going to high school but who is big and bouncy in the Ruth's uniform and look well tailored, has promised to sign with the Yankees in 1934. He is 10 years old, stands 5 feet 11-2 inches and weighs 102 pounds and is still growing. Gabrielson is a left-hander and plays first base. Devine envisions the youth in Lou Gehrig's shoes some day.

The poorly Devine, whose expedition with the Pittsburgh Pirates resulted in the bagging of Ray Kremer, the Warner brothers and Gus Suhr, also has signed Jimmy Tobin for the Newark International league club, a Yankee farm. He will report this spring.

Tobin, a 19-year-old right-handed pitcher, was formerly the property of the Oakland club but was released last year after being farmed to Bisbee. He has been twirling in the Oakland winter league. He is a six-footer, weighs 175 pounds and Devine says he has a good curve
